Atlantic Technological University Privacy Notice for Students

Introduction

We are Atlantic Technological University (ATU). We provide third level education and teaching and facilitate learning that is informed by research and promotes excellence at all levels of higher education within the National Framework of Qualifications and as set out in the Technological Universities Act 2018. ATU is the Data Controller of your personal data and is subject to the Data Protection Acts 1988 to 2018 and the General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679. For further information on how we process your personal data, please see ATU's Data Protection Policy.

As a student of Atlantic Technological University ("the University"), your personal data will be processed by the University for various reasons. As part of the transparency principle of the GDPR, you have the right to be fully informed about the uses of your personal data by ATU. This Privacy Notice outlines the types of personal data we will process, the purposes for which that personal data is required, third parties with whom we will share your data, how long your data will be retained by us, your rights and how to contact us.

The information we process about you

The types of personal data we process about you include, inter alia:

You will be required to provide Next of Kin/Emergency Contact Details for use only in emergency situations. It is your responsibility to inform such contacts that you will be sharing their personal data with the University.

How we obtain your personal data

We process your personal data at various points in your relationship with ATU. This information is provided by you, either directly or indirectly. It may also be provided by third parties like the CAO, SOLAS, PAC, Springboard, SUSI, Department of Employment Affairs and Social Protection, INIS, etc.

Legal basis for processing your personal information

We process your personal data because it is necessary in order to:

- Fulfil our contractual obligations with you;
- Comply with legal obligations that apply to us;
- Perform functions conferred on us by law and which are carried out in the public interest;
- Perform tasks to which you have provided consent;
- Protect your legitimate interests and the legitimate interests of ATU and third parties (limited scenarios).

Where sensitive personal data is concerned, we process it where:

- You have provided your explicit consent;
- It is necessary for the purposes of preventative or occupational medicine, for the general provision of medical care and, in some instances, for medical diagnosis;
- It is necessary for reasons of public interest in the area of public health (COVID-19);
- It is necessary for employment/social security purposes;
- It is necessary for research or statistical purposes e.g. to meet Government requirements, to monitor whether our equal opportunities policies are working and to ensure that disabled students and other under-represented groups receive appropriate support.

Should we require your consent for any specific use of your personal data, we will collect it in advance of any processing and you can withdraw consent at any time. There are limited exceptions where consent cannot be withdrawn, for example, where your image has been published on printed material.

Purposes for which your personal information is used

The University holds the personal data and sensitive personal data / special category data of its students in order to implement and manage all services and processes relating to students, including student recruitment, admission, registration, teaching and learning, examination, graduation and other services such as accommodation, student support and careers. Only information required for these purposes is obtained and processed, and without it the University may not be able to provide its services. We also share some non-sensitive student data with the Technological Higher Education Association (THEA). THEA is the representative body for Institutes of Technology and Technological Universities and supports our aims and objectives in numerous ways, including collating student data for statistical analysis. No individual student will be identifiable in any reports which contain only anonymised collated data. ATU has a relevant data protection agreement in place with THEA.

This is not an exhaustive list and any other disclosures to third parties not listed here are made only where there is legitimate reason to do so and in accordance with the law.

Parents, guardians and other relatives

It is your responsibility as a student to communicate and engage with the University. ATU will not disclose your data to parents or relatives without your consent (even if you're under 18 years), other than in exceptional circumstances, for example where there is potential danger to your health or well-being. If you wish to provide consent for matters to be discussed with your parent, you must send an email to this effect to the relevant ATU staff member. Exceptionally, where urgent communication with you has proved unfruitful, contact may be made with your next of kin/emergency contact using the details provided by you at registration.

Publications

All graduating students, including those graduating in absentia, will have their name, home town, award and classification listed in the graduation booklet. The graduation ceremonies are streamed live on the internet and are recorded for publication on the internet and for archival purposes.

Many ATU events are recorded and streamed/published on the ATU website.

Transfers outside the European Economic Area (EEA)

In so far as is practicable, ATU endeavours to hold all personal data within the EEA. Where we transfer data outside the EEA, we ensure that there is an appropriate mechanism for doing so that complies with all relevant legislation and also ensure that your data receives the same level of protection as it is afforded within the EEA.

Data retention

ATU retains your personal data for the purposes described in this notice. The University will not hold your data for any longer than is necessary, but some data will be held indefinitely in order, for example, to verify your award, provide transcripts of your marks, provide opportunities for further study, careers support, alumni and networking services. More information on our retention schedule is available on request.

Provision of Information to Employers and Recruitment Agencies (LYIT)

There are certain circumstances where we will transfer personal data to a third-party employer or recruitment agency to allow them to verify your attendance at ATU and in other situations for the provision of a reference.

Security

We are committed to ensuring that your personal data is secure with us and with the data processors who act on our behalf.

Your Rights

You have the following rights under data protection law, although your ability to exercise these rights may be subject to certain conditions:

- The right to be informed about the data processing the University does
- The right to request access to your personal data held by the University – to have a copy of the personal data that we hold about you
- The right to rectification – to have inaccurate or incomplete personal data rectified
- The right to erasure of personal data where there is no legitimate reason for the University to continue to process your personal data. If you exercise this right, the University will continue to hold some personal data which, for graduates, will include name, subject(s) studied, graduation details, date of birth and unique identification number, so that we do not inadvertently contact you in the future and to maintain your education records for archive purposes. We may also continue to hold some financial records about you for statutory purposes
- The right to restrict the processing of personal data – you have the right to block the processing of your personal data in specific situations
- The right to data portability - you have the right to request that the University provides some elements of your information (e.g. academic progress records) in a commonly used machine-readable format in order to provide it to other organisations
- The right to object – you can object to the processing of your personal data by the University in certain circumstances, including the sending & receipt of direct marketing material
- The right to object to automated decision making & profiling. ATU does not currently make decisions affecting students by automatic means without human intervention.
- In order to exercise any of the above rights please contact us using the contact details set out below.

In order to exercise any of the above rights please contact us using the contact details set out below.

Your Responsibilities

You must inform the University if your contact details change so that your data is accurate at all times. You must comply with ATU's Data Protection Policy which is available on the Student Portal.

Website Privacy Policy

The ATU website privacy policy explains how data is gathered through use of the ATU website.

How ATU will contact you

You may be contacted by telephone, email or post. In addition, we may text you with information related to your studies e.g. exam information, room changes, rescheduled classes, appointment reminders, placement arrangements, etc. This contact is to enable us to fulfil our contractual obligations to you.

Questions and Complaints

If you are not satisfied with the University's handling of your personal data or believe that the requirements of data protection legislation may not be fully complied with, you should contact the University's Data Protection Office in the first instance. You also have the right to submit a complaint to the Data Protection Commission.
